Brentwood Fireman, Bird Fancier Becomes Legislator

Currently serving a one-year term as councillor of Central Saanich, Harold Andrew is almost a farmer.

Although he has been employed by the B.C. Electric Company at Tod Inlet as a fireman for nearly 10 years Mr. Andrew has interests in the raising of his own variety of livestock. He is among the foremost breeders of budgerigars on this continent. At an election meeting several weeks ago the council member remarked that his feed bill was as high as that of many farmers. His feeding costs run into several thousand dollars a year.

Another interest that takes up much of the councillor's time is his garden. To the three main forms of occupying his time. Councillor Andrew has now found a fourth. The new pursuit of taking his seat on the council is as arduous as any of his other occupations.

HAROLD ANDREW

His enthusiasm is the breeding of the birds commonly known as love-birds. Budgerigars do not come under this heading although the term is frequently used. Some 10 years ago Mr. and Mrs. Andrews owned a pair of budgerigars. They became interested in the brilliantly-colored talking birds. Today they have an aviary of several hundred. Visitors from all parts of the world call at the aviary and birds are shipped to many remote places.

Councillor Andrew, who is married and has one daughter, has lived in the Brentwood district for about a quarter of a century. Prior to his present occupation he worked for many years in a local store, where he was well-known to many of the people who elected him to the council.

Hunting and Smuggling
The new councillor came to Brentwood from England. He was born in Yorkshire, where his family was prominent in hunting circles during the last century. His forebears were also smugglers of no mean ability.

P. E. Thorp Is Re-Elected President of Saanich C. of C.

—Strong Council Named

Percy E. Thorp, Keating farmer, was re-elected president of the Saanich Chamber of Commerce by acclamation at the annual meeting of the active organization in Brentwood W.I. Hall on Monday evening of this week. Mr. Thorp has already completed one term in the chair and he agreed, under pressure from the floor, to continue for another term.

Ed. Logan, of Brentwood, was re-elected vice-president of the organization while M. O. Goodman will continue as secretary-treasurer.

Considerable new blood from various sections of Central Saanich was elected to the council: Major McLoughlin, Ted Hawkins, R. Godfrey, Stan. Shiner, Art. Bolster, Ted Holloway, Harry Peard and Adrian Butler.

Reeve Sidney Pickles and Councillors Ray Lamont and Lorne Thomson, of Central Saanich Municipality, were given a warm welcome to the meeting.

It was agreed that a Saanich Municipality be formed that the organization, which today centres in Central Saanich, will continue to operate under the name of Saanich Chamber of Commerce until some reason is advanced that a change is imperative. It was pointed out that some members reside within Saanich Municipality and the remainder in Central Saanich.

New Members
Four new members of the chamber were introduced at the meeting: A. K. Hemstreet, R. Godfrey, Harry McNeel and R. Knott. All were welcomed warmly.

It was agreed to mark "Education Week" at the next scheduled meeting in the Brentwood Hall on March 5, at 8 p.m. Saanich Teachers' Association will be invited to provide speakers who would come prepared to argue that many "frills" in modern education are necessary. There was some feeling expressed that modern education had strayed too far from the "three R's."

Some dissatisfaction was expressed with the postal service in different parts of Central Saanich and a committee was struck to study the situation and report to the chamber. Members of the committee are: M. Atkins, H. D. Patterson and Ted Holloway.

Comfort Station
A high priority will be given by the chamber to the erection of a comfort station at the foot of Verdier Avenue, Brentwood.

FULFORD INN IS SOLD

—This Week

Sale of Fulford Inn, well-known hostelry at the head of Fulford Harbor on Salt Spring Island, was announced this week. The property, owned and operated by D. Singleton and T. Ayres for the past three years, has been sold to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Coleman, of Vancouver.

Mr. Coleman has been active in the decorating business in the mainland city.

Prior to assuming operation of the hotel, Messrs. Singleton and Ayres resided on Saturna Island where they were active in the logging industry. Their future plans are indefinite but they will continue to reside on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman will take over their new property around March 1.

AIRPORT RECORD

Extent to which air transport is tied up with the lives of the residents of this area is indicated by the record year reported by the Patricia Bay Airport T.C.A. officials. More than 150,000 passengers passed through the airport during the year. Cargo also reached an all-time high when 555,523 pounds was handled by the cargo section of the T.C.A. terminal.

The figures for the total numbers of passengers arriving at the North Saanich air terminal during 1950 show 77,770 passengers arrived as against 68,015 in 1949. There are no records kept here of outward bound passengers but the number of departures are generally equal to the number of arrivals, explained J. A. MacDonald, T.C.A. manager at the airport.

Cargo through the airport, during the past year, showed an even greater rise. In 1949, 96,722 pounds of freight left the airport. In 1950 this figure rose to almost double at 162,011 pounds. In the earlier year there was no record here of the quantity of cargo arriving.

AGED VETERAN PASSES

William Hearn, of Sixth Street, Sidney, passed away at Rest Haven hospital at five o'clock in the morning of Wednesday, Feb. 7. Former merchant of Sidney, Imperial veteran and octogenarian Mr. Hearn was the sole survivor of his family. His wife and daughter both predeceased him many years ago. A native of Brighton, England, he was 88 years of age.

The deceased was a saddler in the Imperial Army during the First World War. He came to the Peninsula shortly after that war and settled in Sidney after a brief residence in Victoria.

For many years he operated a shoe repair business on Beacon Avenue in the premises now occupied by James Ramsay's real estate business. Mrs. Hearn and her daughter, Iris, were the proprietors of an ice cream parlor on the corner of Fourth and Beacon. Miss Hearn married Fred Larson, of Sandy Bay, and opened a grocery store in the same building.

The couple traded under the name of the People's Supply Store until the death of Mrs. Larson. The business was later purchased by Stan Anderson, who continued to operate it for many years.

Mr. Hearn, who had at one time owned the whole block, relinquished his interests and retired. Last year he joined the Canadian Legion. He was the oldest man to join the Legion at that time.

He is survived by his son-in-law and a number of relatives in England.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by Hayward's B.C. Funeral.

A HORSE WITH A HISTORY IS LOST IN TORONTO CLAIMING RACE

Merrill Harrop, of West Saanich Road, left home in May with three horses. He returned at the end of the year with two horses and an enviable record of successes on race tracks throughout central and eastern Canada.

The first horse on his list is Shake Again. A two-year-old, bred and raised at the West Saanich stables, Shake Again proved an asset to the stable, finishing against animals with a summer's racing experience, the novice was in the money in seven out of nine races.

Danger Mark, the second of his string, ran eight out of eight races in the money, but the record was less significant to Mr. Harrop because the animal was only trained here.

The third animal was a South American horse with a history. Callandria comes from Cuba. In earlier days the horse was prominent in Cuban racing and was despatched to the United States and Canada to compete against the local racehorses. Callandria

Chief of the North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department, G. A. Gardner, has volunteered to train volunteer firemen for the Municipality of Central Saanich. The smooth operation of his own department is a clear indication of the value of his services to the new area. Already there are many enthusiastic men awaiting training in this essential service to their district.

SERVICES EXPANDING

—At Rest Haven

The Rest Haven Hospital Board met for its annual meeting Feb. 1, at 2 p.m., with W. A. Nelson as chairman. There was practically a full attendance at the board meeting. Those present were: W. A. Nelson and H. A. Shepard, of Oshawa, Ont.; W. H. Roberts, M.D.; Arnold Moran, Ruth Stickle, R.N.; J. C. Neithercut, of Vancouver; C. M. Crawford, of Sidney, and R. A. Smithwick, of Vancouver.

In many ways it was an epochal meeting. Arnold Moran, of Sidney, was welcomed as a new member of the board. He entered enthusiastically into the discussions and decisions and is a very valuable addition to the Rest Haven board. R. E. Crawford, of Oshawa, a member of the constituency of the hospital, was also present.

Extensive plans were approved for greatly augmenting the services at the hospital. An auxiliary power plant is to be purchased to make provision for any emergency which might arise. A communications system was also authorized which will connect every bed in the institution. This will enable all patients to hear programs of music, addresses and special announcements of interest.

The entire institution has been made available to the area in case of emergency. The whole staff is also committed to the task of assisting if an emergency should arise.

Prospects are exceedingly bright for the present year.

10 Per Cent Drop

The board heard the reports of the three phases of the operation of the hospital. The medical report dealt with the factors governing the average time spent in hospital. Although there was an increase in the number of patients

HE WAS "IN TRADE"

AND FINDS LIFE FREER IN CANADA

Outbreak of war in 1939 brought about many changes in the lives of persons all over the world. The face of Europe and the east was vastly changed. It also brought a new citizen to Deep Cove, B. C. Turner was on holiday in this country. He left his native England in May, 1939, intending to spend six months abroad having suffered a nervous breakdown.

He landed in New York and purchased an old car. In that car he made his way slowly across the continent. The holiday was excellent and the picture he painted of the American continent was a beautiful one. When he was in Alberta he found himself, one day, near Lake Louise. His first experience on entering the magnificent hotel there was the announcement on the radio that Britain had declared war on Germany.

Rare Jewels

During his holiday he had not been in touch with international news and he was thunderstruck. To return home was out of the question. Passages were immediately like rare jewels. After debating the situation he elected to continue through to the west coast, which was his intended destination, and review his position when he arrived. For a time he rented a cottage in Brentwood. He soon found a home in Deep Cove, which he bought to occupy temporarily. He is still there. "I came to this country 40 years too late," he told The Review. "If I had been in business here instead of in England I would have amassed up in a lot better condition."

During his working life in England Mr. Turner operated a shoe store which had been in his family for four generations and a dry-goods store.

CENTRAL SAANICH REFUSES FIRE PROTECTION OFFER OF NEIGHBOR

Atmosphere Is Strained at Tuesday Evening Meeting of Council; Reeve Casey Present

Discussion of fire protection at Tuesday evening's meeting of Central Saanich Council brought up some heated exchanges. The council unanimously rejected the offer of Saanich Council to provide fire protection at a cost of $12,000 per year.

A delegation from Saanich Council attended the meeting and the atmosphere was sharp as Reeve Joseph Casey and Reeve Sydney Pickles exchanged views on fire protection. Included in the delegation were Saanich Councillors L. Passmore and Mrs. Grace Shaw. Councillor Passmore explained to the meeting why the figure of $12,000 was considered a fair one. The area of Central Saanich is one-third of the combined area of the two municipalities, he said. The total cost of fire protection to the parent municipality is $130,000 per year. Thus the fee called for is only one-tenth, he said.

Reeve Pickles called attention to the greater hazard existing in the urban area.

"Should we find ourselves in difficulties," said Reeve Pickles, "we would call on Saanich and we would expect to pay a bill."

Reeve Casey did not approve of such a procedure.

"I think you are placing me in a very awkward position," he said.

Could Reciprocate
The tenseness of the air was relieved by Councillor Lorne Thomson, who observed that Central Saanich would be happy to reciprocate and help out Saanich any time they might find themselves in difficulties.

Reeve Pickles endorsed the offer.

The reeve informed the council that he had been negotiating with the North Saanich Volunteer Fire Department. Arrangements had been made, he said, whereby that department will offer protection to a large section of the municipality until internal fire protection is provided.

Reeve Casey

Reeve Casey, who had been in the chair, noted that the poll tax was due to the province if it was not collected by the municipality. Councillor Willard Michell did not approve of the wording of the fire by-law. His view was shared by Mr. Blandy. Council finally decided to put the by-law through and amend it at a later date.

Slogan

Reeve Sydney Pickles adopted a slogan, "We can always modify it later." At every discussion of a by-law the reeve emphasized this feature. He was looking to the 60 more by-laws that remain to be passed before the municipality is fully covered by local legislation.

All six by-laws will be finally read on Thursday evening's meeting.

Council decided to call for tenders for a four-ton truck. Discussion arose as to the most suitable type of vehicle. The four-tonner was the winner.

A letter was read from the Victoria Fire Department concerning the loan of an A.R.P. fire pump. The loan is to be brought up at the next meeting of the Victoria department.

J. A. Wright offered the council a chassis. He was thanked and the offer was accepted.

Disputed Road

A letter was to be sent to Saanich Council and to the municipal solicitor to investigate the present standing of the disputed Tuxford Road. A letter from P. F. Warren called for the gazetting of the road.

Some discussion arose from the

TO CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Valentine's Day, Feb. 14, will mark the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Akerman, of Saanich Harbour. Mr. and Mrs. Akerman were born on Salt Spring Island and have lived there continuously. The festive occasion will be celebrated by a family re-union.

Apportionment Board
The delegation from Saanich also heard the remarks of a number of local organizations on the proposal to call for an appraisal of assets of Saanich in the apportionment. Reeve Casey spoke at some length on the subject.

For a number of years the people in Central Saanich were quite content to take the auditor's figures, commented the Saanich reeve.

"The moment you get separated you dispute and question these figures," he continued. He explained that the Saanich Council had faith and confidence in the selection for the apportionment board.

Reeve Pickles replied that there was no desire on the part of Central Saanich to do anything but achieve a finding of the board that could not be the subject of recriminations at a later date.

A letter had been received from the minister of municipal affairs, Hon. R. C. MacDonald. No offer of an independent appraisal was made and council had sent a further letter to the minister.

No "Horse Trading"

Capt. C. R. Wilson addressed the council endorsing the stand taken on appraisal. He referred to the necessity for close harmony between municipalities in the future. Central Saanich wanted no "horse trading," he said.

Ward Six Ratepayers' Association wrote to the council expressing the same view and Ed. Logan appeared before council on behalf of the Saanich Chamber of Commerce, with a further endorsement.

Councillor Thomson objected to the phrase appearing in the letter read last week from W. C. Warren. He was called on to resign from the board "for obvious reasons."

Speaking of his efforts at the meetings of the board, Councillor Thomson said, "I'm not satisfied with the valuations, mind you, I'm kicking all the time."

-- Policing Is Discussed --

Policing of Central Saanich by the R.C.M.P. came under discussion again at Tuesday evening's meeting of the council.

Councillor Lorne Thomson reported that he had been in touch again with Assistant Commissioner A. S. Belcher, of the R.C.M.P. in Victoria. Col. Belcher had still expressed hope of co-operation on the subject and had offered to meet the council as a whole to further discuss the matter. Council approved of the plan but made no definite arrangement.

Another six by-laws were given their final readings. Numbered from five to ten inclusive the new regulations deal with poll tax, highway traffic, extraordinary traffic, electrical inspection, fire protection and oil-burner permits and inspection.

R. F. Blandy, adviser to the council, noted that the poll tax was due to the province if it was not collected by the municipality.

Councillor Willard Michell did not approve of the wording of the fire by-law. His view was shared by Mr. Blandy. Council finally decided to put the by-law through and amend it at a later date.

Interior of the Sidney Fire Hall is today resplendent in shiny, new paint. Fred Beard, Sidney painter and decorator, donated the paint and his labor for the job. He was assisted by Ken Ritchie, who donated his time as well.

The building will be much better preserved as a result of the paint treatment.

COURT OF REVISION

Court of Revision in Central Saanich will sit at 3:30 p.m. on Thursday. The court will immediately adjourn until 8 p.m. on Friday when six appeals will be heard. Court will be held in the temporary council offices at the Pioneer Log Cabin, Saanichton.

She has played characters of "rough" types with actual ease, and shined in ballets—especially a Sports program. She is active in Toronto's New Play Society, and has a film to her credit. Altar Society Officers Are Re-Elected

The annual meeting of St. Elizabeth's Altar Society was held at the home of the president, Mrs. W. Smart on Wednesday last, when members of the men's communities were present. Maurice Connor in the chair. Reginald Rev. Fr. Williamson was unable to attend.

On a motion of Miss Enos the present slate of officers was re-elected by acclamation: president, Mrs. W. Smart; vice-president, Mrs. L. B. Scardiff; secretary, Mrs. H. Braden; treasurer, Miss M. Enos; music, Mrs. M. Connor and Mrs. Scardiff; linen, Mrs. E. Eychenman; library, Mrs. Smart and Miss B. Martin; new parishioner, Mrs. P. McNair; publicity, Mrs. Scardiff.

Danger of Blasting To Young Mink

Danger of blasting to mink farmers has been emphasized by Harry McNicol, of Newman Rd., Saanichton. Mr. McNicol explained that the mink, during the breeding season, are very sensitive to sudden loud noises. The sound of the explosion will frequently result in the loss of the young mink and may prove fatal to the mother animal.

The reference to this aspect of blasting came to light as a result of the deliberation of the Central Saanich Council on various by-laws. Mr. McNicol has suggested that the proposed blasting by-law include a clause protecting the mink farmers in the municipality.

Mr. McNicol's caution has received the warm approval of Councilor Ray Lamont who is himself a mink farmer.

"Better late than never" is a saying which does not apply to life insurance. Too often late means never. If you delay in applying for the proper amount of assurance protection you may ultimately find you have fallen below the required medical standard. Many of our medical examiners are obliged to turn down applications for insurance from people whose need for it is great. Many of these disappointed people could have qualified a year or so earlier but the development of a health impairment makes them now uninsurable.

Statistically speaking, 200% of men are already uninsurable when they reach the age of forty. Keep this figure in mind. Don't be too late applying for your life insurance. Call me today!

NO REDUCED FIRE RATE

With the exception of that part of Central Saanich which lies within the Brentwood Waterworks District, Central Saanich is an unprotected rate area, irrespective of the system of fire protection offered.

Reeve Sydney Pickles informed the council last week that he had interviewed various insurance officials who had given him the foregoing information. Even in the case of an area provided with a professional crew the allowance on fire insurance is only obtainable where the house is within 500 feet of a fire hydrant, he said.

In some cases, remarked the reeve, people would be better off when the home was completely destroyed and they could collect the full amount of the insurance, instead of being subjected to the "harsh policy" adopted by insurance companies in the case of partial loss.

KEATING on EAST SAANICH ROAD

— PHONE: Keating 61 —

- CENTRAL SAANICH -SAANICHTON

A pleasant evening was enjoyed Wednesday evening in the Orange Hall when eight tables of "500" were in play at the Saanichton Community card party. Prize winners were: Mrs. Micklejohn, J. John, and special prize, Mrs. Dadds. Refreshments were served by members of the club.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Facey are now residing in the Calpine Auto Court, East Saanich Road, and Don has taken up his duties as a partner in his father's business at the Saanichton Garage.

A most interesting address on South Africa was given by Lionel Taylor on Tuesday evening in the Orange Hall, to the members of the St. Stephen's and St. Mary's Men's Society. Colored slides illustrated Mr. Taylor's voyage from Vancouver through the Panama Canal visiting ports of call in the West Indies to Cape Town. The speaker described in detail the interesting botanical specimens he had seen and told of the wonderful "Welwitschia Mirabilis" which is partly coniferous tree and partly plant. It grows at only one known place in the world, which is Walvis Bay, on the southwest coast of Africa, and due to the rarity of this specimen a heavy fine is the penalty for any destruction of the plant. Mr. Taylor mentioned the regrettable fact that Canada has no national botanical garden, but added that recently the University of British Columbia laid out acreage for this purpose. At the close of the interesting lecture Mr. Taylor left immediately for Vancouver on route for Africa on another of his many interesting journeys.

The monthly meeting of the Saanichton Community Club was held Thursday evening in the Orange Hall, with R. Godfrey in the chair. Business matters included a discussion on whether the Midget boys' and girls' basketball squads should be entered for a tournament to be held at Nanaimo the end of March in which teams from the mainland and up-island points would participate. A motion was carried that the teams would be entered and further discussion be held at the next meeting. In a sports report by the president it was noted that the club had outfitted five basketball teams which members considered as being very commendable, and also added that the various teams' appearance on the basketball floor was a credit to the club. Card party committees for the next two parties were named, and Mr. and Mrs. Hemstreet and Mr. and Mrs. W. Turner will convene.

LAST RITES FOR SAANICH PIONEER

Funeral services were held at St. Anne's church, Jan. 22, for Mrs. Mary Holme Middleton, 76, who died in Nanaimo hospital. Rev. G. T. Pattison officiated and interment was in the family plot at the cemetery.

Mrs. Middleton was well known throughout the Parksville and Qualicum district, having operated the Rambler Tea Rooms for 25 years.

A native of Westmoreland, England, she came to Canada 60 years ago, with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Martindale, and resided in Saanich until 1913 when she moved to Parksville, where she had a successful business.

As a young woman in Saanich she was always ready to give her time. When St. Mary's church was built, she became its organist, also a member of the old Temperance Society, a great centre of the young folks, for many years, also the Saanich Agricultural Society, could always count on her help.

J. W. Martindale and Mrs. Alena Butler are the only survivors of a family of eight sons and daughters.

SCHOOL NEWS

By Harry Hoskin

As a branch of the Junior Red Cross we sent to England recently a portfolio on the west coast. It contained a list of pupils and their duties, description of the school by Dave Greenaway, photos of pupils piling wood and planting a garden, descriptions and pictures of the industries: fishing, by Aileen Collins; fruit growing, by Jean Facey; lumbering, by Dave Johnston; movie making, by Jim O'Reilly; tourist trade, by Toni Prosky.

This week our boys made over the book cupboards into double library shelves and we find it a great improvement.

Virginia Townsend is leading in the book club competition. The book clubs are named "Circus Time," "Robin Hood," "Round-up" and "Explorers."

Ten lavender bags and six garden ornaments have been made for the Junior Red Cross sale. Grade V and VI are making booklets advertising Florida, and Grade IV are making a diary of a trip to the Hudson's Bay.

Our school nurse is coming to the school on Thursday, Feb. 15, at 9 a.m., to immunize pre-school children.

VOLUNTEER FIRE BRIGADES

MEMBERS of the Saanich Chamber of Commerce, meeting at Brentwood on Monday evening of this week, had their eyes opened. Their guest speaker was G. A. Gardner, chief of the Sidney Volunteer Fire Department. Fire protection is a very live issue in Central Saanich just now and the active Chamber of Commerce there wished to learn something of the operation of volunteer brigades.

Mr. Gardner presented a general outline of the operation of his own fire fighting equipment and for nearly an hour and a half he was bombarded with questions from the floor of the Chamber. There can be no doubt but that his audience was greatly impressed by what he told them and the seeds were sown right there for a first-class volunteer fire brigade in Central Saanich.

The speaker pointed out that competition is the spice of life in such organizations and he pictured the day when the two Saanich Peninsula brigades would compete in various fire-fighting events. Unless we miss our guess the Sidney brigade will have to look to its laurels before so very long for Central Saanich Municipality contains a very enthusiastic group of embryo firemen.

Esprit de corps was stressed by Mr. Gardner as the very backbone of the Sidney brigade. Equipment did not come easily to his department, he pointed out. At the start the equipment consisted of one hand reel. Today the entire investment is somewhere around $40,000 plus thousands of hours of voluntary labor. He admitted that the necessity of his firemen building a fire hall over a period of two years had detracted from their weekly practices but with the structure now nearing completion, the weekly practices can soon be resumed.

Mr. Gardner gave full credit to B.C. Telephone Co. for the assistance of its staff in the efficiency of the fire department. Without the eager co-operation of the telephone girls, he did not see how the brigade could function properly. But he assured the Saanich Chamber that they could look for the same co-operation from the "hello girls" of Keating exchange and was certain that a similar arrangement could be worked out with the telephone company in Central Saanich.

The Review agrees fully with the council of Central Saanich. The sum of $12,000 annually is too much for fire protection. We feel that the seeds of a highly efficient volunteer system in that new municipality have been sown and feel that the day is not far off when an active brigade in the municipality is working in close co-operation with the Sidney brigade protecting property in both areas.

SOME REACTIONS

LAST week's editorial, in which we wondered if the most cordial relationship existed between North Saanich and the minister of public works in the provincial government offices in Victoria, brought a decided reaction. One gentleman has written us in this connection and his letter appears on this page. Others have been content with expressing their views to us verbally. The consensus seems to be that the populace in this neck of the woods is gravely concerned about the situation.

Some pointed to the "missing link" in the marine drive around Saanich Peninsula which we referred to several weeks ago. This short piece of highway construction has been promised by successive governments for the past 40 years, it was maintained. How better could the minister of public works prove to us that we have a warm spot in his heart than by announcing that he will complete this road link during 1951? asked one resident. There is no apparent reason to the layman why this road section cannot be built easily and cheaply. An assurance by Hon. Mr. Carson that he will give it a high priority would be very welcome.

The West Saanich Road today is in a deplorable condition. A year ago The Review pointed editorially to the crying need for early attention to this highway. Today it's in a far worse state than it was at that time. Surely the department of public works is aware of this situation. Something must be done about it.

There is a feeling growing in this area that the department of public works is convinced that North Saanich should become a municipality. Many residents are maintaining that the department is deliberately slowing down on expenditures here to encourage the residents to form a municipality. Of course we don't know that there's a vestige of truth to this suggestion but if the department would move at once to launch sorely-needed repair and construction projects, the lie would be given to such a contention emphatically.

TROUBLOUS DAYS

THESE are troublous times and the motto of the Boy Scout organization, "Be Prepared," can well be adopted throughout the land.

Leadership has been given by the Sidney and North Saanich Chamber of Commerce to the formation of a "disaster committee" under the chairmanship of Dr. G. H. Hoehn. All residents will devoutly hope that the day will never come when a disaster committee will be called upon for emergent action in this area. But it's a thousand times better for us to draw up a complete disaster program for this district and never have to use it than to neglect this valuable work and regret it.

Everyone should co-operate to the full with Dr. Hoehn and his committee.

... Letters To The Editor ...

NOT SURPRISED

Editor, Review:
Sir:
It was with interest, I read your editorial in last week's Review, "Are We in the Picture?"
Note you expressed surprise and concern, that A. J. R. Ash, our representative to the Provincial government, was unable to obtain from the honorable minister of public works or his department, any information regarding the Brentwood Bay ferry.
Such lack of co-operation from this department toward our main-merely confirms my previous opinion. Both the honorable minister and his aides have shown, and are showing, utter contempt for the principles of democracy.

Mr. Ash asked for, and was entitled to some facts and figures regarding this ferry. They are none too savory. Many of us who are aware of them are not blameless; in that we have said or done nothing to bring them to light.

In the fall of 1948 a tender was used for the necessary removal of creosote piles and decking to both the Brentwood Bay and Mill

The Review's Book Review

"FLOODTIDE," by Frank Yerby. Dial Press.

Like many a character in a novel, Ross Pary had but three women in his life other than his mother and sister. While his life was being carefully woven between that of Morgan Brittain and Conchita Izquierdo the remaining ladies of Natchez were obliged to look on and take a watching brief. Perhaps it was as well that affairs progressed in this manner. Having accomplished a fine approach to the domestic life of an eastern potentate, Ross Pary had little opportunity to pursue another lady with the zeal that the occasion would demand.

The story follows the Pary family from their origin as the children of a saloon-keeper in Natchez-under-the-Hill to that of planters in the fashionable Natchez-on-the-Hill. Ross Pary had all the qualifications of a southern gentleman except the circumstance of his birth. He soon overcame that. His brother was a tougher card, but that was fine with everyone, including everyone's wife.

The tale rolls through the internal disturbances caused by the difference of opinion in the states regarding slavery. Ross Pary goes to the wars in Cuba and comes back in one piece. Women may come and women may go but Ross Pary scarcely notices it. Except in specific instances. Probably essentially written by a man of vivid imagination for the express benefit of his fellow less gifted, the book holds the interest until the end. Then the reader is brought up against a sudden wall. And that is the end.

Many features of life in the southern States in the mid-nineteenth century are of interest if the reader has not read all the current literature on the subject. There have been so many stories in the past several years dealing with the same time and place that voracious readers are as familiar with the negro slaves as they are with their own homes.

Interesting, but in no particular degree outstanding, the story is entertainment and makes no pretenses to be more.—F.G.R.

New edition of the Statesman's Year-book was recently released by Macmillan's. Edited by S. H. Steinberg it is the standard reference of current world information. The 1950 year-book is the 87th edition of the work and offers comprehensive details of the inside picture of every country in the world.

Bay terminals of this ferry. A tender was received for around $77,000 for the work. Had it been accepted, both docks would have been built to similar specifications of strength, to all other docks of this kind in British Columbia.

The tender was not accepted. Instead, a vast amount of money for both steel and concrete, was expended for the reconstruction of these docks. A sum of money not less than $300,000. The work took over six months to complete, and during this period the ferry was out of operation.

The writer is familiar with the B.C. coast from here to Prince Rupert. He knows of no docks where there has been such wanton waste of capital expenditure as this. Neither the cement, supplied by Evans, Coleman and Johnson, nor the steel, which entailed such a large expenditure of money, was necessary.

On the basis of four per cent, which is the interest involved, in the difference between the capital expenditure of $77,000 and the $300,000 spent, an additional $9,000 every year will be required for interest.

In line with everything else the cost of operating the ferry has increased, and the owners needed a much greater subsidy. This could have been met by the money now expended on interest, to meet excess capital expenditures incurred.

AN APPRECIATION

Editor, Review,
Sir:

It is now apparent, from reports which have been received from postmasters in all parts of the country, that over the recent Christmas period, the public co-operated as never before with the postal service in early mailing of their Christmas gifts and greetings.

This co-operation has been deeply appreciated. It indicates there is a widespread understanding of the problems which the post office faces in the Christmas rush and a general readiness to assist the postal service in meeting them.

In its preparations for handling the heavy mailings, which again set a new record in volume, the department took on 26,000 temporary employees. These temporary employees did a good job, although many of them had had no previous experience in postal work. Even this enlarged organization, however, would have been unable to dispose of the heavy mailings before Christmas without the effective co-operation of the public. Because mail was packed well in advance of Christmas Day, in most instances, our post offices were back on an almost normal basis by 22nd and 23rd December.

The happy situation was greatly to the public informed through news stories, special articles and editorials, on developments in handling the mails from day to day, and I would be remiss, therefore, if I did not thank you for the help your publication gave us.

With all best wishes for the New Year, I am,
W. J. TURNBULL,
Deputy Postmaster General,
Ottawa, Ont.,
February 2, 1951.

New Camp for United Church

Depicted above is the proposed George Pringle Memorial Camp to be constructed at Shawangin Lake. The camp will form a youth training centre for the youth leaders of Vancouver Island. When completed it will provide a centre for all boys, girls and youths of the United Church in any part of the island or the Gulf Islands. It will accommodate 100 children at a time. The estimated cost is near $20,000 and the money will be raised by a canvass of all the members of the church in all parts of the area. The property on which the camp will be situated was purchased about 12 months ago by Chris Spencer, of Vancouver, who donated it to the church for this purpose.

The book is of 1,600 pages and costs $7.50. It is of value to everyone whose work or interests require exact information regarding any country. The contents include a summary of each country, its government, constitution, money system and finances, area, population and vital statistics. The religions, educational systems, justice, defence, industry and commerce and every facet of internal economy of each country are listed.

Value of Money In the Bank

(New York Times)
Someone hesitatingly the kindly lady approached the teller's window, her bank book in her hand. "I now have over two thousand dollars in my savings account," she said "and I wonder if I could have this made into a joint account for both my husband and myself."

"Certainly," beamed the teller, as he handed her a set of forms. "All you have to do is to have your husband fill these out and then you can either mail them or bring them in."

Oh dear, I'm afraid I couldn't do that," replied the lady hesitatingly. "It's not that I don't trust my husband; but if he found out about the account there would be so many complications."

She opened her purse and tucking the bank book down in one of her pockets, started to turn away. The teller could see that she was still struggling to resolve some conflict in her mind.

"Perhaps I might be able to help you," he suggested.

"I wish you could," said the lady. "I have such a problem! You see my husband and I have decided to buy a new car and if we could only use this money in my savings account we wouldn't have to pay any financing charges."

"Then why don't you?" asked the teller.

"Because then my husband would ask all sorts of questions as to how I managed to save so much money—and if I told him, it would spoil his fun."

The teller smiled and scratched his head as the lady continued. "It all began when my husband started playing the horses. I told him I knew a bookie and would place the bets for him, so his boss wouldn't find out about it at the office. Of course, I didn't really know a bookie—that was a little while ago so I took the bet myself. When his horse won I paid him off and when he lost I put the money in my savings account."

Can Mercy Be A Mistake?

(Peterborough Examiner)

A Pictou jury made an unusual recommendation, recently, in finding a man guilty of manslaughter who had previously been charged with murder, the jury said. "We recommend no mercy," it is common enough for a jury to tell a judge that they feel that mercy should be extended toward a condemned man; a recommendation that mercy be withheld is something which we have not met with before.

There are reasons for believing that in our imperfect world mercy can be overdone. We notice with interest that New Zealand has returned to the exercise of capital punishment. In 1941 hanging was abolished in New Zealand; from that time until 1948 there were 87 murders there; in the seven years before the abolition of the death penalty there had been only 54 murders. It looked to the New Zealand legislators as if the death penalty did, in some measure, act as a deterrent to murder, and so they restored it.

Mercy is one of the greatest of the virtues. There is another, lesser virtue called Prudence, which should be exercised in all aspects of life. Prudence apparently dictated a return to the death penalty for murder. And in Pictou prudence influenced a jury to make an unusual recommendation against leniency for a man who had taken a life.

Canadian Wheat

(By Bluebell)

An item on a radio broadcast this week stated that our government at Ottawa had decided against sending a cargo of wheat to India. One reason given was that owing to flood and frost our wheat crop had not been good. Another reason was that India had not agreed with the United States and the 23 other countries who formed a majority on the matter, in the Council of the United Nations to condemn China as an aggressor.

The first reason might pass, but the second reason savors of coercion. Hasn't India a right to her own conclusion? She is much nearer to China than we are and I am sure understands China better than we ever can. Because India differs in opinion on such a matter from us is that a reason for withholding wheat from her? Or are we to be withheld in her hour of need?

The following letter, clipped from a current daily newspaper, expresses what has been in my mind for a long time, and I forward it:

Five-Year Food Plan

Instead of One World, as Wendell Willkie hoped for, we have three worlds today: the democratic, the communist, and a large desperate mass of confused humanity with the belief, now grown to a fetish, that no matter what changes take place, their lot could not be worse.

With famine, poverty, and disease rampant in many parts of the world, these desperate millions in the third world are ready and ripe to follow Communists or any other propagandists who PROMISE FOOD.

Could the democracies not start a series of five-year plans and actually SUPPLY FOOD—FREE—to starving peoples in all the world, and especially to all undernourished children, even if it should cost as much as the United Nations peoples are now spending and plan to spend on "war prevention."

In other words, for every billion spent for guns and planes and bombs "to ensure peace," why could not another billion be supplied for food and health?

Could this be the first step "to create and not to destroy?"

And, say at the beginning of the second five-year plan, when we had proved our good faith, then, and not till then, inculcate "To Love and not to Hate."

Like offering stones to those asking for bread in our talk, talk of democracy and freedom to starving peoples.

There will never be peace in the world until we have a plan of action, and famine are prevented. Would that Lord Boyd Orr, with

A Glance at Service Clubs

(Washington Post)

Names such as Rotary, Lions, Kiwanis, Optimist are as American—and as familiar to Americans—as hot dogs or huckleberry pie a la mode. Their members can afford to grin at the fun sometimes made of them by the ultra-sophisticated, for they enjoy a fellowship that is proof against derision and they have rendered services in countless communities which have won them enduring affection and respect.

No one familiar with these organizations, in the United States at least, could possibly attribute to them any sinister or antireligious intentions or activities. They are, of course, secular bodies; their camaraderie may conceivably be mistaken for irreverence, and their business orientation may make them seem materialistic. But, whatever they may lack in dogmatic faith, they make up for in the religion of good works; their exuberance is the exuberance of men who love their fellowmen. Their tolerance embraces all creeds and sects. And any sect excluded from them would, in effect, be excluded from an effective avenue to community service.

CANADIANS EMPLOYED BY JAMAICAN RADIO

Canadians are employed as general manager and assistant manager of "Radio Jamaica" which is operated by the Jamaica Broadcasting Company Limited, on a commercial basis under an exclusive government franchise. The about 600 pounds (there may be considerable variation in this figure) of beef to sell the retailer, 40 per cent of the live weight of the steer being eliminated in the dressing process. At 50 cents a pound (grade "A" carcass beef sells in Canada today from 50 to 54 cents) the packer will receive about $300, or approximately the same amount as he paid the farmer.

The packer must rely on the value of such by-products as hides, fat, casings (sausage covers), animal feeds and fertilizers which go to make up the 40 per cent reduction from live weight to carcass weight, to offset dressing, handling and selling expenses and allow him some profit on the business transaction.

Turning to the activities of the retailer, we find that when he converts the 600 pounds of beef he bought into retail cuts, this in turn suffers a considerable shrinkage, and the retailer may end up with only about 540 pounds of saleable beef.

Market Research
Recent research findings on the Chicago market show that even the choicest steer will yield about 40 pounds of porterhouse steak which the retailer can sell at a top price of about 90 cents a pound, compared with about 160 pounds of hamburger and stew beef retailing at a much lower price.

Other of the more expensive cuts include sirloin and round steak totalling about 130 pounds, rib and rump roasts, 70 pounds;
chuck or cheaper meat about 100 pounds and about 40 pounds of fat, bringing the total quantity up to about 540 pounds of beef that the retailer sells at varying prices to the consumer from the 1,000 pound choice steer.

These figures of course, are only approximate, but they do serve to show what happens in processing a live beef animal from producer to consumer on most Canadian markets, and will undoubtedly vary with different animals and varying market requirements.

organization, which is still expanding, employs about 55 per-

MRS. V. C. BEST HEADS GANGES CHAPTER I.O.D.E. FOR FURTHER TERM

Mrs. V. C. Best was re-elected regent at the annual meeting of the Ganges Chapter I.O.D.E. held last Friday afternoon at Harbour House.

Other officers for the ensuing year are as follows: honorary regent, Mrs. Dallas G. Perry; honorary vice-regent, Mrs. Cecil Abbott; first vice-regent, Mrs. Geo. St. Denis; second vice-regent, Mrs. G. H. Holmes; secretary, Miss Frena Aitkens; treasurer, Mrs. Elvan Walters; educational secretary, Mrs. David Simson; "Echoes" secretary, Mrs. J. C. Kingsbury; standard bearer, Miss B. E. M. Bedds; ex-service convener, Mrs. C. H. Holmes; post-war convener, Mrs. C. E. Baker; films and parcels convener, Mrs. George St. Denis; hospital convener, Miss Helen Dean; tea convener, Mrs. J. Mitchell.

The treasurer reported a balance of $48.41.

The annual report showed that there had been nine monthly and two executive meetings during the year and, with the exception of one at the vicarage, all were held at Harbour House, Ganges.

Owing to unusually bad weather in January and February, 1950, the annual meeting was not held until March.

Loss of Member

The chapter suffered the loss of a valued member during the year in the passing of Mrs. W. E. Scott. Three new members, Mrs. G. A. E. Kellman, Mrs. J. L. Johnstone and Mrs. B. Eagles were enrolled in the organization. The educational secretary made favorable contact with the chapter's adopted school at Clearwater, where tools for handicraft work and framed pictures of the King and Queen were sent.

Calendars for the adopted school, also for the Gulf Islands schools and for each room of the Ganges school, were distributed. A book entitled "The Sea and Its Mysteries," a gift to Mrs. Simson from the English publisher, was donated to the Ganges school and a $25 scholarship was presented to Marjorie Childstone, a student of the school who obtained the highest marks in the junior matriculation examination.

Initiative

The chapter took the initiative in the very successful Manitoba Flood Relief Drive in which the amount taken in was $871. A tag day was held for the Queen Mary Carpet Fund by which, from the sale of booklets and pictures of the carpet, the sum of $51 was realized.

Money was raised during the year by a telephone bridge, proceeds from a contest the prize for which, a vase, was donated by Mrs. Cecil Abbott; two garden parties, held respectively at the homes of Mrs. D. Simson and Mrs. C. E. Baker, and home cooking stalls at Mout Bros. store.

During the year the post-war convener shipped used clothing to headquarters and also new garments to the value of $304 and reported still having a good supply of clothing on hand for local needs.

Highlight

The highlight of the year was the packing of Christmas hampers for island veterans, pensioners and several families, all of these gifts were from the members own larders, the total value of which amounted to over $100.

The visit of the provincial president, Mrs. E. H. Pellant, was greatly appreciated by members and all who had the privilege of hearing her address were refreshed and inspired.

It was stated the gift of the gramophone and records also pictures of the Queen's carpet have been shipped to the adopted school at Clearwater this week.

Unique films, taken in the far north and brought to the island by Mrs. Marvin Williams, public health nurse in Netlakatla, Alaska, will be shown in the Mahon Hall, Ganges, on Monday, Feb. 12.

Shows Finesse

Reid Forsee of the CBC is a man who sports kid gloves with diplomatic finesse. Nine times out of ten, when an important public official or church dignitary broadcasts from the Toronto studios, Forsee "puts him on the air." His quiet, reassuring manner has set hundreds of big-wigs and little-wigs at their ease before the microphone—which some people long accustomed to public speaking find almost as frightening as a firing squad!

Sunday afternoons, his is the guiding hand in the Church of the Air broadcasts. Saturday he is responsible for Sports College and World Church News (all on the CBC Trans-Canada network), and the rest of the week he produces programs for listeners in Ontario and Quebec.

THE GULF ISLANDS

FULFORD

Mr. and Mrs. E. Forsen and son, Victor, returned to Victoria on Sunday after spending the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Fergus Reid.

Mrs. M. Blouin left on Monday for Victoria, where she will be a patient in the Royal Jubilee hospital.

Mrs. E. Mortenson returned home from Vancouver on Thursday with her small daughter, Lynn, who has been a patient for some time in Vancouver General hospital.

PENDER ISLAND

Mrs. S. P. Corbett came back from Vancouver on Saturday, Jan. 27.

E. Knechtel came off the S.S. Princess Mary at Port Washington on Jan. 27 and returned to Vancouver, boarding the same vessel at Hope Bay on the same day. He has just suffered the loss of his wife in Vancouver.

Bert Brackett was hurt in a logging accident on Tuesday. The doctor made a flying visit from Ganges. Mr. Brackett's condition is not serious.

J. Taylor received a painful injury to his eye, while working with the Cameron Logging outfit here. He went to the Lady Minto hospital at Ganges for treatment.

On Thursday, Jan. 27, Mr. and Mrs. Garrod went to Vancouver. Captain MacPhail and Mrs. Darling with her father and uncle, boarded the S.S. Princess Mary for Vancouver at the same time.

Miss Alice Auchterlonie is spending a few days' holiday with her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Auchterlonie. She is a member of the nursing staff of the Nanaimo Indian hospital.

Residents of the island were delighted the other day to see contractors at work repairing the Hope Bay wharf.

The peaceful atmosphere of the island was disturbed during the week by loud explosions. It proved to be the blasting of rock by the road foreman, and Mr. Money of Saturna Island. They are endeavoring to widen the roads.

A service is being held in the Pender Island United church for all the ladies of the island on Friday, at 3 p.m. It will be conducted jointly by the ladies of the United Church and St. Peter's Anglican church.

Something of a community spirit was shown this last week, when the community raised money for a collapsible wheel chair for the use of Ronnie Brackett, while in the Vancouver General hospital. Leslie Bowerman wheeled the chair in, accompanied by Roger Allan and Dr. Dennis.

Dr. Ankenman came over from Ganges with a nurse, Feb. 3 and held a clinic in the school.

Card Party and Dance At Fulford Hall

The South Salt Spring Women's Institute 500 card party and dance was held in Fulford Community Hall on Friday, Feb. 2. Jack Fraser acted as M.C. and eight tables were in play. Prizes were won by: ladies, 1. Miss B. Hamilton; 2. Mrs. A. Brett; gents, 1. W. Bridgen; 2. E. J. Lacy; consolation, Mrs. E. Lacy.

Mrs. M. Singleton, pair of pillow slips; 3. Miss Jeanette Clark, lace tablecloth; 4. G. Bilton, grocery hamper.

The evening realized $60 toward W.I. funds.

The hostess was assisted at the supper hour by Mrs. Harold Day and Miss Grace Mount. Other guests present were Mrs. J. C. Garlin, Mrs. A. Francis, Mrs. C. F. Farn, Mrs. J. B. Foubister, Mrs. H. A. Lindsay, Mrs. M. B. Mount, Mrs. J. Monk, Mrs. George St. Denis, Mrs. D. G. Winteringham, Mrs. Stanley Wagg, Miss M. Perry.

CONCERNED OVER COAL SHORTAGE

Steadily increasing demands in Great Britain for coal from home and abroad, together with a disappointingly small rise in production, are causing concern to government, industry and consumers alike. The next few weeks will probably reveal whether the prevailing scarcity will precipitate a coal famine in the nation.

That of 1947. To stave off immediate effects of this shortage, the government has arranged to import up to two million tons of coal. For the long run, realizing that the lack of manpower in the mines is the root cause of the problem, the government is planning steps which may encourage miners to remain in their calling and attract others in the working force to the mines. A 15-year development plan has been put forward by the National Coal Board to meet the nation's rising domestic and export requirements.

The term "good-bye" is a corruption of "God be with you."

Mrs. H. Auchterlonie came back on the S.S. Princess Mary from Vancouver on Feb. 3.

GANGES

Following a week-end visit to their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald M. Thompson, Ardmore, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Best and their little son, Robin, flew on Monday to Los Angeles, where Mrs. Best, accompanied by her son, will spend a month or so with her brother-in-law and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Best, her husband continuing his journey to Florida, Mexico and other parts in search of rare birds, which he will fly to Miami and New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Finn Lepsoe returned on Saturday to Seattle after a few days' visit here, guests at Harbour House.

Mrs. A. J. Eaton left on Thursday to spend two weeks in Vancouver, visiting friends.

Capt. and Mrs. V. J. Harraway left on Wednesday for Crofton, V.I., sailing the following day by a Donaldson Line freighter via the Panama for England, where they intend visiting relatives and friends for a month or two.

J. Walker left for Vancouver on Sunday after a short visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. Walker, North Salt Spring.

The floral arrangement of the rooms was carried out with daffodils and ferns and the supper table was centred with a large cake decorated in white and yellow and surmounted by candles.

The evening was spent in dancing and community singing and among those present were Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Coolie, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Reynolds, Mr. and Mrs. Elvan Walters, Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Mr. Halliday attended Lord Byng School in Vancouver and joined the RCAF in 1940. While serving with RAF Bomber Command in 1942, he was shot down and taken prisoner of war in Northern Italy. He managed to escape in 1943 and rejoined the RCAF. Discharged with the rank of Flying Officer in 1945, he served with J. W. Boyd & Company as city salesman until joining the House of Seagram on January 1st of this year. He is a member of Marine Drive Golf Club.

ISLAND PIONEER IS LAID TO REST

On January 28, at Lady Minto hospital, Ganges, there passed peacefully away, Gerald Bland Young, of Vernditch Lodge, Salt Spring Island, in his 75th year.

Born at Broad Chalke, Wilts., England, educated at Cranleigh College, Surrey, Mr. Young came to Kamloops, B.C. in 1898 and was associated with the late Bill Fortune and William Roper, cattle ranchers.

He came to Salt Spring Island 44 years ago where he engaged in farming. He is survived by his wife at home, and son, Garnet (Gary) of Victoria; two brothers and a sister in England.

The funeral took place from St. Mark's church, Jan. 31. Archdeacon Holmes officiating, and Mrs. W. M. Palmer at the organ. The hymns sung were "Unto the hills" and "The radiant morn." Psalm 23 was chanted.

The following were pallbearers: S. Bannister, A. B. Cartwright, W. Leach, W. M. Mout, V. Case-Morris, H. A. Robinson. Interment was in the Anglican churchyard. The many friends present and beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem in which he was held.

GALIANO ISLAND

Mrs. B. P. Russell has returned home after spending several days in Vancouver.

Miss Ethel Smaback has arrived to spend a few days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Smaback.

David New is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. New.

Arthur Lord spent several days of last week in Victoria where he visited his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crocker.

A special meeting was held by the P.T.A. on Wednesday of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Garner, when the 1951 sale of work was fully discussed. It was also agreed upon that an entertainment in the form of plays be staged during March with A. B. Hodge directing.

Honey bees are sold by the pound.

COME ON IN, SON, AND

meet the manager!

When you take over the farm, one of these days, you'll want to talk to him. You can discuss your affairs in a friendly way, as I have done. And you'll find he knows a lot.

He knows we farmers need bank credit—sometimes to put in a crop, sometimes to take off a harvest. If we need market information, he can get it for us.

Remember when we electrified the farm? Our bank manager made me the loan. It's backed us up that way for years, helping us to improve our stock, increase production.

And that's what our bank manager is there for—to help you and me to manage. He's a good man to know.

Will they ever strike oil in your back yard?

An exciting thought, isn't it? But of course you know the odds are hopelessly against your being that lucky. In fact, you don't expect life to hand you even a very small fortune on a platter. Or do you?

Take old-age benefits, for instance. Undoubtedly many older people really need help. But no over all security plan is going to provide all the income you and your family will ever need in the future. Things just aren't going to be that easy.

Five million Canadians, among whom you are probably one, want and expect security and independence in their later years. And they are planning for it now, in a way that suits their own individual and family needs.

These far-sighted men and women are enjoying more of the good things of life than ever before, and at the same time protecting their loved ones now and building security for their old-age with life insurance.

Surely you want to help build this kind of future security for yourself and your family. Nearly 5 million Canadian life insurance policyholders are doing it now!

THE REVIEW'S MARKET LETTER

(By H. A. Humber, Ltd.)

The New York indices continue to climb and in fact moved into new high ground every day during the past week. The question we hear very often these days is "should I take profits?" Certainly this thought is understandable in view of the action of many stocks in the past year; both speculators and investment minded operators can show profits ranging up to 100 per cent.

The first question leads to another, "what should I do with the capital realized from the sale of my securities?" If you believe that a break is coming selling is the obvious thing to do. Place the funds in the bank and prepare to buy back your equities lower down. Bear in mind before taking such action that many safety factors exist today that did not exist prior to the last great market set-back; that the possibility of replacing your stocks at a sufficiently lower price to warrant the action is doubtful, in fact may be costly. Assuming this to be the case remain in your present position for the time being. The only alternative to the above is to start scalping in selective issues.

Essay Contest Is Announced

High school students throughout British Columbia will be writing industriously next month. The reason is the high school essay contest, open to students from grades 9 to 12, and organized by the British Columbia Division, Canadian Cancer Society. The society sponsored a similar competition last spring and it met with so much enthusiastic response that it was decided to repeat the project this year.

First, second and third prizes of $25, $15 and $10 each will be awarded in 14 districts throughout the province. In addition, district first prize winners will be eligible for the grand provincial prize of $50, making 43 prizes in all.

Three Best
The subject is "Cancer—What To Do About It," and the essays must be limited to 600 words. The principal of each school is asked to select the three best entries and forward them to the British Columbia Division, Canadian Cancer Society, 2676 Heather Street, Vancouver, post-marked not later than February 28, 1951. From these the education committee of the society will choose the 42 district winners and the winner of the grand provincial prize.

The cancer society believes that by giving high school students an understanding of the disease, fear of it will be dispelled; these young people are the future men and women of our country and when they reach middle life, the age when cancer more frequently manifests itself, they will have some knowledge of the symptoms and will realize the necessity for seeking early medical advice.

goods store, which he founded. His home was in the Shropshire town of Newport.

The deciding factor in Mr. Turner's preference for this part of the world is the camaraderie which exists everywhere. He recalled that in his early married life there was a farmers' ball every year. He was not invited because he was "in trade." Such an atmosphere is foreign to this country, said the retired merchant.

Democratic
Mr. Turner is among the most democratic of politicians. All his life he has been an enthusiastic Tory. He still is. Despite his own views and the loss in income he has experienced since the British nationalization program was launched he believes that he is not justified in complaining.

By the fact that the Socialists are in the majority I know that this is the program that the majority of people in Britain want. In that case I cannot complain," he said.

He suggested that the nationalization of British industries might have been better accomplished had the government gone more slowly. "If they had nationalized, say, just the railways and the mines and then left it for ten years to see how things went, it would have been better," he said. "As it is everything has gone through without allowing a chance to see

Heads Board

In its newly-elected president, Ralph D. Baker, the Vancouver Board of Trade has a man whose understanding of the over-all problems of British Columbia is practically as thorough as his familiarity with those of the lower mainland city.

Mr. Baker, who is president and managing-director of Standard Oil Company of British Columbia Limited, was installed president of the Vancouver trade board on January 25. In the years he has spent in British Columbia Mr. Baker has travelled many thousands of miles visiting other cities, towns and outlying districts of the province.

whether it was going to work effectively."

Mr. Turner has recently returned from a holiday in the United States. He was accompanied by his cousin, Mrs. M. Shrimpton, also of Deep Cove. He was away for six weeks. Last year, when he spent an American holiday the authorities of that country only permitted him 29 days. The period was nearly doubled this year. He has been impressed with the way of life in the United States. There is little awareness of affairs international, he found. In the average community the effort of living and making a living is predominant. There is not enough time left to the individual to consider the more abstract details of affairs taking place many thousands of miles away.

Cold Weather Cuts Egg Supply

Poultry market report as supplied by the Dominion Marketing Service, Vancouver, follows:

Egg receipts showed a decrease of, approximately, 3 per cent through registered stations in B.C. last week. Hatchery requirements to school."

The total payment of family allowances in British Columbia during 1950 was $21,741,656. In December 309,527 children in 159,765 families received allowances setting an all time high since payments were inaugurated in July, 1945.

January 1 became generally accepted as the first day in the year in 1952.

ments and cold weather are holding off any seasonal increase in market volume, which is running below weekly needs, necessitating the importing of, at least, two carlots in that period, these coming from Alberta and Saskatchewan. A few minor lots have moved into storage, but most operators feel their requirements will be built up from prairie supplies.

Sales are showing increasing volume through retail channels, while northern and Alaskan shipments are steady.

Live poultry receipts are still in modest volume, with insufficient fowl for local demand. Some lots are arriving from U.S. points, but are lessening. Broilers are in fair supply and surplus is going to the freezers. Sales are steady, with cut-up and eviscerated stock gaining public favor.

HEALTH UNIT REPORTS ON ACTIVITIES IN PAST YEAR

Water Supplies Good

Comprehensive survey of the quality of water in all parts of South Vancouver Island has been carried out during the past year by the Saanich and South Vancouver Island Health Unit.

Annual report of the unit states that the Saanich Municipality obtains a safe domestic supply from the Greater Victoria watershed. New reservoir on Rithet Hill will relieve the water shortage during the summer months, adds the report. New Brentwood water supply is highly commended as a major step towards community health.

Sidney Waterworks District has effected improvements in its supply during 1950 by the replacement of old lines with new pipe. Reference is also made to the extensive work carried out on No. 1 well, when it was completely rebuilt. The community is to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which this work has been carried out, says the report. Bacteriological quality of the Sidney water has been maintained at a high standard.

The health unit embraces the southern tip of Vancouver Island, exclusive of the City of Victoria and the municipalities of Oak Bay and Esquimalt. Also included in its territory are the Gulf Islands. The total area covered is estimated at 600 square miles, with a population of 37,000.

In charge of the organization is

Dr. A. N. Beattie, M.D., D.Ph., veteran of World War I. Dr. Beattie has been interested in public health for many years.

Head office of the unit is situated at 232 Burnside Road West, Victoria, and sub-offices are in Sidney, adjacent to the Saanich School Board office, and at Ganges, adjacent to the office of School District No. 64.

Children's Health

Public health nurses are maintained in all parts of the area and all questions appertaining to health are dealt with by the unit. Health of children attending schools in the area is a major part of the work of the unit. Examinations of all children are made periodically.

The unit also carries on an extensive program of health education through a variety of media. Such diversified factors as quality of milk and maternal and child welfare are handled continuously by the unit. Restaurants, a u to courts, schools and housing are all examined by the unit in order to maintain a high standard of sanitation throughout the area.

Examination of lighting in various schools has been carried out and in some instances the inspector has made recommendations for improved lighting facilities.

Humble Pig

The humble pig did not escape the eye of the inspector. Marked improvement is recorded in the report regarding the conditions of piggeries in the area.

In the more thickly populated area of Saanich sewerage disposal presents a major problem to the unit as also to the residents. It is hoped, says the report, that full support will be given to the sewerage disposal by-law.

During the year 113 families were interviewed by the unit in a contribution to the nation-wide Canada sickness survey. During the year each family is visited once a month and all sicknesses of each member of the family are recorded.

With the aid of federal grants the services of the unit have been extended to School District No. 64 during the past year. This area includes the Gulf Islands of Salt Spring, Galiano, Mayne, Pender and Saturna. Miss Christine Humble has been appointed public health nurse for this area and is stationed at Ganges.

The Sidney district health committee includes the following members: Miss R. Simpson, chairman; Mrs. K. Sparks, secretary; Mrs. O. Thomas, Sidney; N. MacNaughton, James Island; W. P. Turner, Saanichton; and Major S. S. Penny, North Saanich.

MORE ABOUT REST HAVEN

the average occupancy showed a drop of more than 10 per cent.

This was attributed, by the report, to the practice of encouraging the patient to get on his feet at the earliest possible time and to the use of the antibiotic drugs, such as penicillin and aureomycin. A further feature which contributed to the reduction in days, has been close laboratory and X-ray supervision and the intensive use of physiotherapy.

The report noted that blood supplies, as administered by the Red Cross, are generously low and only adequate for normal conditions. The blood for Rest Haven Hospital is kept at St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, and can be procured in 45 minutes in case of emergency.

The services of specialists have been available during the year and consultation is available in almost every branch of medicine.

The Hospital Insurance Service has revised some phases of hospital administration during the past year. With the advent of the service the average patient-day stay sky-rocketed, stated the administrator. This, observed the report, threatened the economic structure of the whole plan. During 1949 this increase in patient-days was not experienced at Rest Haven Hospital.

Cost $25,000

In 1950, the reduction of the average period of hospitalization cost the hospital approximately $25,000. Had this factor remained on the 1949 level there would have been 3,050 more patient days, producing that revenue. The operating deficit of the year was $15,795.17, but when this loss the hospital has saved the B.C. Hospital Insurance Service over $10,000.

Base rate during the year was $9 a day. The rate set by the Hospital Insurance Service was actually below operating costs. The deficit may be reclaimed, noted the administrator's report, but the time involved in the process is a considerable factor.

Final objection to the hospital insurance plan was voiced against the allowance of 10 cents per patient day in respect of building and equipment depreciation. Hospitalized with the needs of the hospital, this is pin money, says the report. The Hospitals' Association is pressing for a reconsideration of the depreciation plan to protect the future of the hospitals.

New X-Ray Unit

Among the many improvements carried out to the hospital during 1950 are listed the provision of a new X-ray unit, at a cost of $13,000, and the clearance of a right-of-way to allow of the direct passage of fire fighting equipment to an adequate supply of water at all times.

Report of the nursing division noted that nursing procedures, in recent years, have greatly increased in number and complexity. This has resulted in the delegation of many duties formerly performed by the physician to the nurse. This factor, combined with the increase in the number of medical, surgical and maternity patients, has necessitated additions to the nursing staff.

The staff at present includes 12 graduate nurses and seven nurse aides. Facilities for education of both nurses and aides are provided in order to ensure that the staff is wholly familiar with current nursing procedures.

AERONAUTICAL ESTABLISHMENT

The Canadian government has created a National Aeronautical establishment, designed to meet the urgent need for improving facilities for aeronautical research and development. It will consist, for the present, of the existing aeronautical research facilities of the Division of Mechanical Engineering, National Research Council, at its sites on the Montreal Road, Ottawa, and in Amprior, Ont. It is intended to move the Amprior unit to Uplands Airport, Ottawa, as soon as the necessary flight test facilities can be constructed. The location of such facilities at Uplands will enable the long-term requirements for aeronautical research and development to be met.

Director of the National Aeronautical establishment is to be John H. Parkin, C.B.E., of Ottawa, director of the Division of Mechanical Engineering, National Research Council, and a pioneer in Canadian aeronautical research and development.

SCIENTISTS SEEK NEW SELECTIVE SPRAYS TO COMBAT INSECT PESTS

Natural enemies of insects like ladybird beetles and other insects helpful to man, may soon go about their business of eating pests injurious to plant life without danger of being killed by insecticides aimed at their prey—and spraying costs will accordingly be reduced.

That is, of course, if scientists are successful in their present experiments of perfecting new selective sprays, according to Dr. Robert Glen, chief of the division of entomology in the department of agriculture at Ottawa, reporting on the recent meetings of the American Association of Economic Entomologists, held at Denver, Colorado.

Dr. Glen, and other Canadian scientists, presented papers and took part in the international discussions on the latest developments in insect control with entomologists from the United States and Britain.

One paper that gave rise to considerable discussion was that given by Dr. D. P. Pielou, of the Dominion Parasite Laboratory at Belleville, Ontario, dealing with the breeding of strains of parasites of the Oriental fruit moth that are resistant to D.D.T.

High on the list of important papers read at Denver, Dr. Glen said, were those dealing with the new systemic insecticides like schradan. Tested at present in a limited way in England, he pointed out that these newer sprays were absorbed by the plant through the leaves and roots and the feeding insect was killed by the toxic property contained in the sap of the plant.

Mopping Up

Preliminary tests show that these new selective insecticides are effective against destructive pests like aphids and mites and because of this selective action do not kill beneficial insects like lady-birds. This leaves the natural enemies of pests free to do their share of "the mopping-up operations," which means, Dr. Glen said, that fewer sprays will be required with a consequent saving in the grower's production costs.

During the entomological conference at Denver, various papers were read dealing with the principles and practice of biological control of insect pests. This involves making use of several natural and introduced enemies of different pests attacking various crops.

Emphasizing the need for manipulating spray schedules so as not to work at cross purposes with the natural enemies of insects, W. A. Ross, head of the fruit insects unit in the division of Entomology at Ottawa, reviewed the results obtained in this regard at the entomological laboratory at Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia.

Referring to the basic research work being done at Annapolis Royal, Mr. Ross declared that it represented a landmark in the recent history of economic entomology and had proved fundamental to the development of sounder and more economical methods of pest control in Canada. Research workers in the citrus groves in California and Florida present at the meetings also stressed the value to them of this basic research being done by Canadian scientists.

Western Germany is reported to have purchased 171,423 head of cattle, out of a total of 239,078 exported from Denmark for iving. In 1950 this figure was 297,512 pounds. In addition to the air cargo, T.C.A. also carried 285,203 pounds of mail through Patricia Bay Airport.

Cargo Increase The increase of cargo was assisted by the railway and steamship strike during the year, when many merchants, farmers, manufacturers and residents of the area utilized air transport to deliver goods to other parts of Canada. August is always at the top of the list through the years, explained Mr. MacDonald. This figure was boosted by the same strike, which occurred during that busy month.

NEW ZEALAND TO PERMIT IMPORTS

New Zealand will now consider applications for licences to import the following goods from hard-currency countries, including Canada: Tractors, road graders, pick-up balers, combine harvesters, forage harvesters, side rakes, wind-rowers, cornpickers, brush-breaker ploughs, potato diggers, drainage machinery, trench diggers, power grain binders, bale loaders, onion harvesting machines, ancillary equipment for garden tractors, integral equipment for light wheel tractors, spare parts for agricultural implements and machinery.

There were 4,148 scheduled flights out of the airport during the year. In December there were 20 flights less than in the same month of the previous year. Despite this reduction the number of passengers carried increased during that month by 700. This figure would have been very much higher had the scheduled flights been maintained over the holiday period. The Christmas period was significant for the fact that only one flight was maintained.

The year 1950 was a record year for the airport and the August figure reached a record level for that month. There were 440 flights leaving the airport during that month and 11,290 passengers were carried. This compared with 8,296 during the same month in 1949. The lowest figure was chalked up in January when 2,242 passengers left the terminal.

RAMIFICATIONS OF DUCK FARMING PUZZLE NORTH SAANICH MAN

Hal Kennaird is troubled. Captain Kennaird is the proprietor of Sidney Duck Farm. He maintains large numbers of ducks. During the year Mr. Kennaird kills off a number of his birds and sells them for the table. He also sells many eggs. The duck-eating public is happy to eat them; Mr. Kennaird is happy to sell them. The circle of contentment is complete.

In the early days of his duck farming Mr. Kennaird was contentedly selling eggs, ducks and fertilizer. The public was buying eggs, ducks and fertilizer. Under those names, but not necessarily in that order.

Effective, Anyway Recently, a sharp change in the program came about. A department of agriculture official saw the invitation to purchase fertilizer. He was dumbstruck. Fertilizer! Ducks don't make fertilizer. At top speed he hurried into the office at the farm to educate Mr. Kennaird into the meaning of the word. The farmer was not greatly moved, but he agreed that if what he put into his garden was not fertilizer it was not fertilizer. Whether or not his plants agree with the distinction is not clear.

Fertilizer it shall not be, agreed Mr. Kennaird. The name, he decided shall be "Guano". The government man was horrified. Guano, from ducks? Never. This was getting into deep water for the duck farmer. According to his dictionary the term fertilizer means "any substance rendering land more fertile, such as guano or manure". The same source, a gentleman of the name of Webster, informs Mr. Kennaird that guano is "a substance found on certain coasts frequented by seabirds and composed chiefly of

FINDINGS OF APPORTIONMENT BOARD TO BE KNOWN SOON

Long-awaited report on the apportionment of assets and liabilities between Saanich and Central Saanich should be ready within a week to ten days, according to William Crouch, chairman of the apportionment committee.

"We're pretty well finished now," Mr. Crouch reported. "We're waiting for the auditor's report to be completed, before our findings are turned over to the minister of municipalities, Hon. R. C. MacDonald."

Mr. Crouch stated that there were one or two details that had to be altered in the report of the board, otherwise it would have been finished some time ago. At present they were waiting on one or two details to be supplied from the auditor's report, he said.

Expert Advice With regard to the suggestion of Reeve Sydney Pickles that the actual division of assets between the two municipalities should be done by an independent firm of appraisers, Mr. Crouch explained that the board had had the advice of experts whenever it was needed.

"Wherever we felt that the quoted price of a piece of equipment was out of line we consulted the officials who knew and worked with that equipment," he said. Inventories of all municipal equipment had been supplied by municipal clerk John B. Tribe. Mr. Crouch pointed out. If the estimate on an article was too high or low, the engineer, H. D. Dawson, the assessor, F. Stanley Green or the municipal clerk had been consulted and an adjustment made.
